Fuehrer is Reported Aiming At Campaign to Break Shackles of British Blockade by Shifting Main Theatre of War to Mediterranean and Attacking Britain's "Life-Line" Trade Routes in South Atlantic

LAVAL BACK IN PARIS; FRANCO OFF TO MADRID

BULLETIN
Bern, Oct. 24—(P)—Reports reaching diplomatic sources from Vichy, France, today said Premier Marshal Philippe Petain with two aides and the minister of justice had left Vichy for Paris. It was believed here he was going to join Vice Premier Pierre Laval to sign a new French-German agreement.

Adolf Hitler was reported aiming today at a campaign to break the shackles of the British blockade by shifting the main theatre of war to the Mediterranean and attacking Britain's "life-line" trade routes in the South Atlantic. With the Nazi invasion song "we are sailing against England" now apparently muted by R.A.F. assaults, the German Fuehrer was said to be planning a two-fold winter strategy.

1. Italy and Spain would attempt to seize Britain's historic rock outposts at Gibraltar and crush British sea power in the Mediterranean.

2. At the same time, Germany and Spain would smash at British trade with South America and her sea link with India via the Cape of Good Hope, using Spanish ports and airfields in the Atlantic and the Canary Islands as bases.

Informed French sources said Hitler and French Vice Premier Pierre Laval, in secret conversations in the last 48 hours, had virtually sealed an agreement whereby the Vichy government of vanquished France would give the Rome-Berlin Axis the use of naval and air bases in Africa, Syria and unoccupied France in return for certain concessions.

The naval bases would include Dakar, capital of French West Africa; Toulon, on France's Mediterranean coast, Casablanca, in French Morocco, and Bizerte, in Tunisia.

As a reward, these sources said Germany would release all French war prisoners—estimated at 2,000,000 men—and would move.

LOST OVER 50 HOURS
LAD IS RECOVERING
Shenandoah, Oct. 24—(P)—Lost for more than 50 hours on a dense, wooded mountainside, four-year-old Rudy Kunchuck was in a hospital today for treatment of his frail limbs, swollen from exposure to sub-freezing temperatures.

Found yesterday huddled between two rocks, the youngster still had enough strength to whisper "I'm sorry, mama" and hold out his arms when rescuers brought him home.

An Onondaga housewife, Mrs. John Barma, traced feeble cries to a rock pile where the youngster had one leg wedged fast under a rock. "I couldn't believe my ears," she said.

The youngster wandered away from his home in nearby Shepton at 11 a. m. Monday. Since then hundreds of volunteers had searched the pit-scarred countryside in this eastern Pennsylvania coal region.

Relic Packed for New Duty

Famed goldfish bowl from which capsules were drawn during 1917 draft is packed for its trip from Philadelphia's Independence Hall to Washington where it will be used for conscription drawing Oct. 29. Packing it are Warren McCullough, left, captain of Independence Hall guards, and Howard Murphy, head of the bureau of city properties.

Historic "Fish Bowl" From Which 1917 Draft Numbers Were Drawn Is In Use Again

Philadelphia, Oct. 24—(P)—An old-fashioned goldfish bowl from which was pulled the first world war draft names in 1917, was packed today for another ceremonial trip to the nation's capital. Then next Tuesday it will be used in the country's first peace-time conscription.

The big glass bowl which resembles the old 10-gallon pickling jar grandmother used to keep has been on display in a glass-enclosed case at Independence Hall since former Secretary of War Newton D. Baker, more than two decades ago, ordered it preserved.

An official automobile was provided by the city to carry the relic to national draft headquarters at Washington today. The route lay over U. S. highway One through southeastern Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

The city also assigned motorcycle police to accompany the war relic to the Delaware line, where police from that state were waiting to become the escort. Maryland troopers planned to meet the car at the border of their state.

At the ceremonies in Washington, Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson—blindfolded with a stip of linen taken from the upholstery of a chair which once stood in Independence Hall—will reach into the bowl and pick out the first draft number.

INSTRUCTIONS DISPATCHED TO DRAFT BOARDS

Washington, Oct. 24—(P)—Ten pages of minute instructions were sent out today to forward the clerks of 6,500 local draft boards against errors that might cast reflection on the outcome of next Tuesday's national draft lottery.

Stressing again and again the need for "absolute accuracy," the manual of information for local board clerks sent out from national selective headquarters said:

"However unintentional and innocent an error may be, it is always possible that registrants and their friends may charge that the local board and members of its clerical staff are unjust."

Designed to accelerate preparations for the lottery, the pamphlet gave detailed instructions for shuffling and serial-numbering the registration cards of 17,000,000 young men who enrolled for the lottery last week.

Enough numbers from one up-wards, will be drawn in the lottery to cover the larger number of registrants in any one local board area and men will be called to service in the order in which their numbers are drawn unless deferred.

While hastening lottery arrangements, national headquarters announced that, in cooperation with the army's surgeon general, it would collect statistics on the health of draft-age men to be used as another weapon against disease.

World War physical examination records were examined only as to major defects but the 1940 plan will record both major and secondary defects found in potential soldiers.

Quakertown, Oct. 24—(P)—A young man was found shot to death in a stone quarry three miles north of here last night, and today police began a search for a New Jersey girl missing since she left her home with him October 12.

State police identified the dead man as Andrew Koten 26, of nearby Richland township. Dr. H. Clayton Meyer, Bucks county coroner, said he killed himself.

PRESIDENT ALLEGES UNTRUTHS

Chief Executive Swings In to Final Stages of His Third Term Drive With Solemn Assurance Given At Philadelphia That America Has No Secret Pacts With Any Nation and a Promise He Would Continue to Toil for Peace

BACK IN CAPITAL TO DRAFT MORE SPEECHES

BY DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Abroad Roosevelt team enroute to Washington, Oct. 21—(P)—As an old campaigner who loves "a good fight," President Roosevelt swung into the final stages of his third-term drive today with a solemn assurance that America has no secret pacts with any nation and a promise that he would continue to toil for peace.

He headed for the capital by special train—to draft more speeches—after tabulating for a cheering audience in Philadelphia and the nation by radio last night what he termed the more fantastic misstatements of this campaign.

In "repeating, and repeating and repeating falsehoods," he said, his opposition has imported "certain techniques of propaganda, created and developed in dictator countries."

Not once in his address in Philadelphia's Convention hall did Mr. Roosevelt utter Wendell Willkie's name.

But among the "outrageous" and "unpardonable falsifications" which he attributed to partisans and Republican leaders were charges that:

James Hoffmann, 25, Thomas Griffin 18 and Lloyd Wenger 29—all of 300 Walnut street this city yesterday received prison sentences for the robbery of a forest county store on October 15 when they removed about $400 worth of the store's contents and brought it to Warren by truck.

The men also admitted to other robberies and the attempted burglary of a supply store.

The men pleaded guilty at a session of local county court yesterday afternoon. Judge D. W. And sentenced Hoffmann and Wenger to pay fines of $30 the costs of prosecution and the stolen goods and undergo imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary for from two to four years.

Griffin was fined two dollars, ordered to help make restitution and given an indeterminate sentence in the State Industrial School at Huntingdon.

The arrest of the men here Tuesday afternoon was the result of a slender clue followed by Corporal D. A. Gehl of the state motor police, Corporal Gehl and Private D. G. Williams of the local barracks went to Tonawanda on Wednesday of last week to investigate the looting of the Jools Creek Store of P. F. Spencer at Tonawanda.

While there the officers discovered a truck the mark and from that lead obtained a description of the truck after questioning a number of residents of that section.

Attitude of Press Is Mentioned In Speech

Philadelphia, Oct. 21—(P)—On tactics have been successful in establishing falsehoods as truth. Mr. Roosevelt said last night in his campaign address only because they were able to control the press and radio and to stifle all opposition.

"That is why," he continued, "I cannot bring myself to believe that in a democracy like ours where the radio and the part of the press remain open to both sides' repetition of deliberate misstatements will ever prevail."

Applause interrupted that sentence when he came to the word "part," and in the interval, Mr. Roosevelt wagged his finger at newspaper men reporting the speech.

Prosperous Hardware Merchant in Pittsburgh Is Critically Wounded and His Wife Is Slain As Result of "Cooled" Romance

ASSAILANT ARRESTED

Pittsburgh Oct. 24—(P)—Mrs. Sigmund Hartstein, 47, was shot to death and her husband, 55, a prosperous hardware merchant, critically wounded in their home shortly before last midnight while talking with a suitor of their daughter, Evelyn, 22.

Jerry Deasy, Allegheny county detective chief, said the suitor, a former employee of Hartsteins was arrested on a street corner two hours later and held in connection with the shooting.

The man met the Hartsteins at their residence in the suburbs.

Pittsburgh Oct. 24—(P)—Joseph W. Martin, Jr., national Republican chairman, said last night that the president's "pretended" defense inspection tours are a travesty and a fraud on the American government.

"Nowhere in the national budget is there any provision for campaign expenses for any official 'working inspection,'" he said at a rally in Duquesne Garden.

Martin said that while the Republican party paid the campaign expenses of Wendell L. Willkie, "the third term candidate's expenses were paid for by you, the people."

He claimed the president has "set up the great, too most corrupt, most arrogant and most expensive political bureaucracy ever instituted on this nation."

RUMOR KENNEDY READY TO QUIT

London, Oct. 24—(P)—Joseph P. Kennedy, U. S. ambassador to Britain, waited today for clearing weather which would permit his departure by clipper plane for home.

He arrived yesterday from England in a special plane provided by the British air ministry.

New York and California, With Aggregate of 69 Out of 531 Electoral Ballots, Has Highest Percentage

4,600,000 IN PENNA

(Copyright 1940 by the Associated Press)
Washington, Oct. 24—(P)—Heavy registrations throughout the country particularly in the big cities indicated today that a big day-breaking popular vote of around 50,000,000 may be cast in the presidential election next month.

A compilation of official and estimated registrations in each state disclosed a possible total vote of 107,192,000 or about 77 for every 100 of population.

This figure compares with an actual vote of 15,647,117 in the Roosevelt-Landon contest in 1936 and 39,816,522 in the Roosevelt-Hoover election of 1932.

It is based on an analysis of voter-thing and other data showing 60,576,978 may be eligible to vote in the November 5 elections or about 45 per cent of the total population of 131,409,881.

Comparison of the eligible vote four years ago with the actual vote cast revealed that from 5 to 20 per cent of those qualified remained away from the polls.

In some southern states the stay-at-home vote ran as high as 50 per cent. This was taken into account in arriving at this estimated vote.

The census bureau estimates the number of "potential" voters this year at 80,328,000. This figure includes natives and naturalized citizens 21 years old and over. It excludes aliens (totaling about 2,200,000 inmates of prisons and mental institutions, and voters, residents of the District of Columbia estimated at 450,000).

However, many potential voters never take the trouble to qualify by registering in their own necessary steps prescribed by the various states.

New York and California, with an aggregate of 69 out of the 531 electoral votes, topped in record-smashing registrations for the coming election.

New York has an estimated 102,100,000 population and an estimated vote of 6,891,208 and an estimated vote of 6,202,000. A gain of 605,902 over the actual vote four years ago.

California's official registration is 4,072,295, including 2,419,627 Democrats and 1,458,373 Republicans. The state's probable vote this year is calculated at 3,404,000 or 767,118 more than the actual 1936 vote.

New York City reached an all-time high with 3,368,741 persons qualifying to cast ballots on Nov. 5. That is an increase of 468,957 over 1936 registrations. Women were "shown to have caused much of the gain" on the board of elections registered 310,476 more women (215,000 more in 1936, when the increase in the number of male voters was only 178,081).

LABOR SECRETARY IS HEARD IN BROADCAST

Harrisburg, Oct. 24—(P)—Lewis G. Hines, state secretary of labor and industrial relations, said today that Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy was returning home from London for consultation and that President Roosevelt has emphasized the difference between that and resignation.

Asked about reports that the ambassador had told Mr. Roosevelt he would not return to London, Hines replied:

Republican Presidential Candidate, In Address Delivered From Train Halted at Harborcreek Today Noon, Describes Opponent's Remarks At Quaker City "Obsolete" and "On Order" Like Defense Materials

CHALLENGES FIGURES QUOTED ON RECOVERY

BY PHILODOR F. KOOP
Abroad Willkie train enroute to Akron, Oct. 24—(P)—Declaring that there will be one of the "greatest panics in history" if American domestic economy is not stimulated, Wendell L. Willkie today described President Roosevelt's Philadelphia address as strikingly similar to the defense system either obsolete or on order.

Sealed in the private car of his campaign train at Harborcreek, Pa., the Republican presidential nominee broadcast nationally a reply to the chief executives' arguments.

The Roosevelt speech he said, "was obsolete for the reason that it discussed the issues of the 1932 campaign. It was on order because it promised jobs to you and the right to work."

Willkie, speaking 15 minutes behind schedule because his train was late, told his unseen audience that he wanted a national defense on hand and not on order, and wanted to stimulate industry and increase employment.

Harborcreek Oct. 24—(P)—Wendell L. Willkie asserted today that if President Roosevelt did not remember his promises to to

DEMO. LEADERS ARE ENTHUSED

Philadelphia, Oct. 24—(P)—Pennsylvania Democratic leaders today hailed the routing reception given to President Roosevelt, evidence that the people have given full approval of the new deal and its leaders.

Thousands jammed the street here and across the river in Camden N. J. as the Democratic candidate rode in an open car yesterday with U. S. Senator Joseph P. Guffey and Democratic City Chairman John B. Kelly. Police estimated at least 1,000,000 persons saw the procession.

In a statement Luther A. Hart, Democratic campaign chairman for Pennsylvania, said "today's magnificent reception to President Roosevelt is the people's answer to Wendell L. Willkie and his money-controlled Republican party," and added:

"If Wall Street and the money-brokers of this country ever thought they could sell watered political stock to the people of Pennsylvania they now know that they have not put on even a good rummage sale."

Kelly used just nine words in introducing Mr. Roosevelt. Stepping to the microphone and raising his arms for silence, he said:

Ladies and gentlemen the president of the United States who is most eligible by his station in life to spend a year in peacetime military training.

The army says a man ought to be at least five feet tall and no bigger than six feet six. Any other size and they can't fit him for uniforms.

Bitter Questioning Is Provoked In Commons Over Loss Of Aircraft Carrier Glorious

London, Oct. 24—(P)—The haffling and controversial questions of Britain's defenses against Adolf Hitler's an offensive were debated today by the two houses of parliament in secret sessions.

Commons went into closed session after Clement R. Attlee, lord privy seal, had told a questioner that it was "premature" to approach the United States and Soviet Russia concerning post-war collaboration on relief reconstruction and international cooperation.

Bitter questioning was provoked in commons over the loss of the aircraft carrier Glorious with

JARRETT AND DAVIS TO GREET NOMINEE

Sharon Oct. 21—(P)—Republican leaders from six western Pennsylvania counties planned to greet Wendell Willkie on his arrival here from Erie today.

Frank D. Fann, the party's chairman in Mercer county, said delegations from Mercer, Lawrence, Butler, Venango, Clinton and Beavertown counties would be on hand. He said Senator James J. Davis would accompany the Republican presidential nominee on the trip from Erie.

Fann said those greeting Willkie at Erie would include Congressman Benjamin Jarrett of Erie and State Senator J. Fred Thomas and Assemblymen Thomas Lewis and Roscoe Simons.

Man Should be at Least Five Feet Tall and Not More Than Six Feet-Six to be In Army

And if you have at least 12 teeth to meet there goes another exemption excuse provided six of them are missing for chewing uniforms.

How fit a man should be to serve, once he is drafted, is contained in a list of physical requirements received by selective service headquarters here from authorities at Washington.

Regular army standards are to be his training until it is cured and thus is not an exemption.

FOUR SECTIONS ARE VISITED BY DEMO. SPEAKERS

Democrats of Warren county carried their campaign into four different sections of the county last night with meetings being held in Russell, Sugar Grove, Tionesta and in the headquarters in Warren. Young Democrats had charge of the affairs at Tionesta and in Warren where they gathered to listen to President Roosevelt's speech by radio. Attorney Richard P. Lott addressed the Warren meeting while Attorney E. H. Beshlin spoke to the Tionesta group. Refreshments consisting of cider and donuts were served at the meetings.
Making his first public bid for support in Warren County, John R. Boland, Jr., Sharon attorney and candidate for congress from the Twentieth Congressional District, was the principal speaker at the rallies in Sugar Grove and Russell.

Outlining the accomplishments of the New Deal under President Roosevelt, Boland reviewed the record of his opponent in this campaign. He said, "My opponent has been absent from roll calls in the Congress forty percent of the time since he took office in January of 1937. He has voted consistently against defense measures and appropriations for defense. He is a candidate for a third term yet, just the other night he made a stirring appeal over our Sharon radio station, begging the voters to vote against a third term for Roosevelt."
Boland's speeches in both Sugar Grove and Russell were received enthusiastically by good crowds. Tonight, he speaks with C. Henry Nicholson at a rally in the American Legion Hall at Sheffield. Preceding the meeting at Sheffield, he will be honored by a dinner sponsored by the Townsend Clubs at Youngville.

Mr. Boland expects to appear once more in Warren before the election. He is slated to speak, along with Congressman Will Rodgers of Oklahoma at a rally in the court house in Warren on next Monday night. The county Democratic organization is pointing to this meeting as the outstanding rally of their campaign.

Trio From Here Sentenced for Store Robbery

Winger and Hoffman have served terms in the Allegheny County Workhouse, both on larceny charges, the former being sentenced from Venango county and the latter from Allegheny county. The trio moved to Warren this year from Oil City.

Besides the robbery at Trueman's, they confessed to taking a heater from a parked car in Oil City two weeks ago, taking $75 worth of canned goods from the store of Charles Fitzgerald at Pigeon on September 14, $50 worth of goods from the Kelleitville store of Steve Ransom on September 21, wheels and tires from the Venus Motor Company at Venus on September 3, cracking a sealed box in the Slevin yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad in September and taking a quantity of goods consigned to a firm in Louisiana, and attempting to break into the store of the Maybug Supply Company, near the chemical plant at Kingsley. In the latter attempt, they were frightened away before gaining entrance.

Officers making the arrest were Corporal Gehr and Privates E. A. Reeder and J. R. Thompson, of the state motor police. Forest County Sheriff J. Bruce Hagerty and Forest County Deputy Frank S. Ellis.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Shippe, of Youngville, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Hinman and children, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Miller.

Prohibition Party Still Seeks Place On Ballot

vice president, respectively, after the last day for filing minor party nomination papers, April 3. The party's papers for other state-wide candidates left those two offices blank.

Harry J. Woodward, deputy attorney general representing Miss S. M. R. O'Hara, secretary of the commonwealth, said ballots already had been printed throughout the state and were ready for delivery. A change now would cause "an awful mess," he said, adding that the party had been guilty of "neglect and needless delay" in not bringing suit earlier.

J. Dress Pannell, counsel for the Prohibitionists, filed the suit on Saturday.

CAR OWNERS FIGHT FIFTH COLUMN MENACE

When General Malo, in the recent Spanish War, was advancing upon Madrid, he said that he had four columns attacking from four fronts outside and a fifth column working inside that would help conquer the city. From this statement comes our familiar reference these days to "Fifth Column" activities—now generally accepted as meaning those who deny secretly and unknown from within.

Car owners, whether they realize it or not, are menaced by a Fifth Column activity that is costing them thousands of useless dollars every year—all because they ignore or are not aware of it.

The average car driver believes that it is the mileage he puts on his four wheels that make it necessary to change oil every thousand miles. This is not true.

It is not the mileage that lubricants have run that make it practical to change them at regular intervals—but the contamination of the lubricants has picked up during those miles. Not the mileage from the outside but the "foreign elements" that have worked themselves unseen into the lubricants and will do damage from the inside.

Just like saboteurs and propagandists and agitators can from within destroy and ruin a strong, powerful country, so do foreign elements become active and cause damage in lubricants that have been neglected too long.

Like human fifth column agents, these lubricant enemies within are not visible to the eye and, in most cases, are not detected until their destructive work has been done.

We refer to the grit and dirt particles that your crankcase oil and your transmission and differential lubricants pick up while driving. We refer also to the chemical changes that dirt, gasoline getting past the pistons, water diluting the oil—all cause when the same oil is used too long.

Automobile engineers, oil experts and wise car drivers know that the only way they can fight this fifth column activity of foreign elements that get into clean oil is to change lubricants regularly—at the safe intervals sound experience has proven best.

Motor oil should be changed regularly every 1000 miles. And—every Spring and Fall—the lubricants throughout the car should be changed to the correct seasonal grades.

It is now deep Fall. Cold weather is here. Now is the time to change the worn-out and dirty summer lubricants in your car to the correct grade of Quaker State or Sterling lubricants—each the quality leaders in their price field.

To ignore the presence of these fifth column agents—dirt, corrosion, dilution, etc.—is to endanger vital and delicate parts of your motor's mechanism. The outcome is not only reduced car performance and smoothness—but, if neglected too long, means expensive repairs.

Car owners all over the country—right now—are fighting the enemies within their lubricants by changing to new, clean, seasonal correct lubricants—and they are going to their local Quaker State and Sterling dealers for CHANGE OVER service.

Ballot For Presidential Election To be One of Smallest Ever Used; Six Parties, Six Candidates Listed

When Warren county voters go to the polls on November 5, they will be presented with one of the smallest ballots ever used in a presidential election. It was revealed today at the office of the county commissioners, where final preparations are being made for the election.

With only six parties listed and only six offices for which electors may vote, very little time should be consumed in casting ballots, it was stated.

The voters will express their preference of presidential electors, and for the offices of United States senator, state treasurer, auditor general, representative in congress and representative in the general assembly. The ballot is simplified by the fact that names of presidential electors are omitted, only the names of the candidates for president and vice president being included.

The six parties, in the order in which they appear on the ballot, are: Democratic, Republican, Socialist, Prohibition, Communist and Industrial Government.

The candidates, as they appear on the Warren county ballot now ready for distribution, are as follows:

Democratic—Presidential electors, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Henry A. Wallace; U. S. senator, Joseph E. Ransdell; state treasurer, G. Harold Wagner; auditor general, F. Clair Ross; representative in congress, 20th district, John R. Boland, Jr.; representative in general assembly, C. Henry Nicholson.

Republican—Presidential electors, Wendell L. Willkie and Charles L. McNary; U. S. senator, Jay Cooke; state treasurer, James F. Malone, Jr.; auditor general, Frederick T. Gelder; representative in congress, Benjamin Jarrett; representative in general assembly, W. W. Muir.

Socialist—Presidential electors, Norman Thomas; U. S. senator, David H. H. Felix.

Prohibition—U. S. senator, H. B. Mansell; state treasurer, L. J. Lindsey; auditor general, William F. Miller; representative in general assembly, Paul R. Spillone.

Communist—Presidential electors, Earl Browder and James W. Ford; U. S. Senator, Carl Reeve; state treasurer, Benjamin Carothers; auditor general, Peter Joseph Paul.

Industrial Government—Presidential electors, John W. Aiken and Aaron M. Orange; U. S. senator, Frank Knoke; state treasurer, Mary Gessensway; auditor general, George S. Taylor.

DEMOCRATS OF SHEFFIELD TO RALLY TONIGHT

Sheffield, Oct. 24—All voters of the township, regardless of their political affiliation are invited to attend the Democratic Rally which will be held in the American Legion Home tonight at 8 o'clock.

The principal speaker will be Attorney John Boland, of Sharon, Democratic candidate for congress. Other speakers will be Attorney C. Henry Nicholson, of Warren, candidate for state assembly, and former congressman E. H. Beshin, well known Warren lawyer.

There will be a program of music and refreshments will be served.

SEE MOVIES

A most interesting program of entertainment in the form of movies, in color, of the Canadian Rockies was presented at this week's luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday noon in Geddes Hall. The movies were shown by Rotarian J. J. Neville, of Philadelphia. Seventeen members of the club including C. H. Whitaker, president, were present.

TIMES TOPICS

AT ROLLER RINK

There will be a masquerade skating party at the Forest View roller rink, Sheffield, next Tuesday evening, it has been announced. There will be noisemakers, serpentine and prizes. Milton Munn will be at the organ.

CARAVAN GROUP

The Caravan Group of the fourth ward will meet below Ludlow street by seven o'clock tomorrow evening to participate in the Republican parade. It was announced today. All those interested are invited to participate.

KIWANIS CLUB

At the weekly meeting of the Warren Kiwanis Club, held yesterday noon at Y.W.C.A., plans for the annual Red Cross Roll Call were outlined by S. M. McClure, chairman of the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross. Plans also were announced by R. E. Nelson for the initial meeting of the Saturday Evening Boys' Club of the Y. M. C. A., which is sponsored by the Kiwanians.

HURT AT SCHOOL

Donald Brown, Jr., 12 years old, of Jackson avenue extension, was treated at the Warren General Hospital about 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a laceration of the upper lip, received when he slipped and struck his face on the glass window of a door at the Irvinedale school. He was discharged from the hospital after treatment.

HALLOWEEN PARTY

The "Y" boys' Halloween party will be held at the Y. M. C. A. on Thursday evening, October 31, from 7 to 9 p. m. it was announced today. The party is open to all members of the "Y" and members of the various school clubs such as Gra-Y and Junior Hi-Y. An unusual program is being arranged, including Tunnel of Horrors, games, magician's act, movies, refreshments and prizes for best costumes. All boys must be masked to attend the party. Prizes will be awarded for the best girl costume, the best nationality costume, best characterization costume, best hobo and most original of the remaining costumes.

WILLKIE RALLY

Members of the Ninth Ward Young Republican Club will sponsor a Willkie rally at the Lacy school next Monday evening at eight o'clock, it was announced today. Nick Merenick is chairman of the committee in charge. There will be one brief talk, after which a four reel motion picture on the Willkie candidacy will be shown. Refreshments will be served. All are invited to attend, regardless of party affiliation, it was stated.

HAS TRANSFUSION

It was learned here today that a blood transfusion has been given to Lemuel B. Schofield, of Warren and Philadelphia, as a result of the accident which occurred in Philadelphia Saturday night. Schofield suffered a double fracture of one leg below the knee, as well as cuts and bruises, it was stated. According to reports, the mishap occurred during a snowstorm when Schofield was struck by an automobile as he stood beside his machine discussing a minor collision with another car at a traffic sign.

VISIT NEW YORK

Arthur Reed, of 302 Parker street, is one of 11 Syracuse University senior architecture students who are spending the latter half of the week in New York, studying famous examples of architecture. A New York inspection trip for seniors is arranged annually by the department of architecture in the College of Fine Arts. Under the direction of Prof. D. K. Sargent, the students will study Rockefeller Center, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, Riverside church, LaGuardia Airport and other points of architectural interest.

SOCIAL SECURITY

A representative of the Erie office of the Social Security Board will be available to residents of Warren county in the State Employment office, Warren Land building, 225 Pennsylvania avenue west, next Monday. It was announced today by B. L. Keenen, manager of the Erie office. In the past, this service has been conducted on the second Monday of each month, but because activity here has justified the increase of the service, a representative of the Erie office will be here on the second and fourth Mondays of each month in the future.

ENLIST IN NAVY

Three Warren county young men were enlisted in the U. S. Navy yesterday at Buffalo, following their acceptance for enlistment in the navy's recruiting sub-station at Jamestown by Ernest May, chief water tender, and John J. Gibbon, chief machinist's mate. The recruits will receive six weeks of training at the Naval Training Station, Newport, R. I. They are William P. Snyder, son of Mrs. Mary B. Snyder, Kinzie; Arden J. Wilcox, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilcox, and Merle E. Haight, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin W. Haight, Saybrook.

TO FOIL ARTFUL DODGERS
A book that is wise to all the tricks and artful dodgers will aid selective service medical examiners in exposing fakers who attempt to evade the draft by pretending to be ill or disabled.

Mailed to draft headquarters in 48 states the volume contains physical standards for men to be drafted in the army. As forecast, the standards are slightly less exacting than regular army requirements.

Broadly, the regulations state that, to be eligible for the army, a registrant "must be able to see well; have comparatively good hearing; have a heart able to withstand physical exertion; be intelligent enough to understand and execute military maneuvers, obey commands, and protect himself; and be able to transport himself by walking as the exigencies of military life may demand."

Doctors attached to each local draft board will examine all men who are placed in Class 1—available for service—on the basis of their answers to the draft questionnaire which will be sent to all 17,000,000 men who registered last week. Questionnaires will be mailed in the order in which the serial numbers of draft-age men are drawn in next Tuesday's national lottery at Washington.

In the order of the lottery Class 1 men will be given physical examinations and further classified as follows:

Class 1A—Qualified for general military service (certain college students will be placed in class 1D until the end of the present school term; certain conscientious objectors will be listed among the unfit.)

Class 1B—Qualified for limited military service.
Class 4F—Totally and permanently disqualified.
It is anticipated that only those in Class 1A, about one man in every five registered, it is estimated, will be called for training under the present program.
Others might be called in an emergency.

Local doctors are instructed by the regulations to watch for malingerers who feign disqualifying physical defects and for patriots who attempt to hide defects in order to get into the army.

Men suspected of malingering may be reported to the national director, or to the local United States attorney for prosecution. Those who maim themselves may be forced to serve anyway.

Doctors will be on the lookout for men who pretend to be blind or deaf, men who take drugs to cause abnormal heart action, who put sand under their eyelids to cause inflammation, who take acid to simulate jaundice, who use fake crutches, or those who pretend insanity or epilepsy.

PHARMACY WEEK
This is Pharmacy Week and it brings to mind that the science of pharmacy goes back uncounted years, with a magnificent history of service devoted to hope for and healing of mankind. A far cry from the "apothecary shop" of a century ago to the up-to-date pharmacy of the present time.

The prescription department is still the most important feature of a real drug store and druggists are continuing to make wide and forward advances in research, knowledge and preparation of remedies for the ills of mankind.

Well-equipped drug stores conducted by thoroughly trained pharmacists with years of practical experience, such as Warren is able to boast, are as important to the community as church or school, extending healing aid to all from the cradle to the grave.

Motorists should be interested to learn that the distance between Ridgway and Sheffield is shortened ten miles by opening of the new stretch of pavement between Barnes and Sheffield—the last link in the new route.

Today is the 269th anniversary of the birth of William Penn, with many schools holding fitting observances in compliance with a request from Governor James.

With Roosevelt, Willkie, Smith and Martin, besides a number of lesser lights being heard, it was a great night for radio listeners.

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Man About Manhattan

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—There was once a cat. This feline belonged to Max Aronoff, violinist of the Curtis String quartet, and many were the puns as to whether poor Tabby would eventually wind up as an E-string on his master's fiddle.

No, he did not become an E-string or anything of the sort. But he is dead now, dearer than Hector. He died early one morning a few days ago.

When this happened the violinist's wife carefully wrapped him up in brown paper and set out for the pound. She reasoned that the people there no doubt could dispose of the remains more suitably than she.

But then, you know how it is on subway. You sit down and get to thinking about things and sometimes you change your mind.
That's what Mrs. Aronoff did.

"No," she decided. "I won't do this. I'll take him back home and bury him in the garden."

So she picked up poor kitty and got off the train, and got on another going in the opposite direction. Then she walked around the corner to her home. She got out a little hoe and dug a little grave in the shadow of the gladioli. Then she unwrapped poor kitty, and you can imagine her consternation when kitty turned out to be a log of lamb.

It came to her, then, that a fellow on the subway had a package that looked just like hers.

COPS, late prowlers, and milk-men got an eyeful when they passed the Music Hall the other night. After the last show an efficiency crew rushed in and, between 1 o'clock and dawn, laid a new carpet in the Music Hall foyer. This carpet covered exactly 7,000 square feet, and probably cost that many dollars. The new was an exact duplicate of the old.
It was designed by Ruth Reeves, and is known as the Somerset pattern. Perhaps you remember it from your visits here.

Heroine of our non-superstition club this week is blonde Doris Dudley, star of "Meet Mr. Meek."
She recently leased the apartment where George Weidner, witness at the Hines-Dewey trial committed suicide.

STORIES IN STAMPS

War Takes Toll
In Philately, Too

STAMP collectors will have plenty of work, revising albums, when the war is over. Of the 35 pre-Hitler countries of Europe, nine have ceased stamp issues, status of a tenth is doubtful, and there may be more changes in the future.

First to disappear was the Saar, which issued stamps under the League of Nations from 1920 to 1935. The city hall of Saar-
above. Saar issues totaled 154 postage, including overprints, 60 semi-postals, eight airmails and 26 officials.

Austria, Czechoslovakia, Danzig and Poland followed rapidly. Soviet Russia took over Estonia, Latvia and Lithuania; Italy moved into Albania.

Whether Luxembourg will regain independence is doubtful.
Now, with the Grand Duchess in exile, the little principality is only a German district.

method of amendment.

1. An amendment to the Constitution, to become law, must be ratified by how many states?

2. How many amendments to the Constitution are there?

3. Can you describe, in a few words, the most recent amendment to the Constitution?

4. Three amendments were the direct result of the Civil War.
Can you tell what each of them provided?

5. An amendment to the Constitution is pending—that is, it has been approved by the House and Senate but has not been ratified by enough states to make it law.
What is it?

A Washington Daybook

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — Japan
has threatened to bomb the Burma road, dispatches say, but to more than 100,000 Chinese coolies who froze and sweat to build it, bombing is no more than nature has been doing for years.

Less than a year ago, Nelson T.
Johnson, U. S. ambassador to China, was permitted to travel over the new Burma road in a car. From his reports and those of a few who followed him can be pieced one of the most amazing stories of any road in our time.

The Burma road has its beginnings at Rangoon, runs north to Mandalay, and on to Lashio. There the railway ends, but for another 120 miles—to Wundwin on the Burma-Yunnan border there is a good British-built road.

Two-Week Journey
AT WANTING, the real Burma road begins. It weaves through 650 miles of jagged mountains and mile-deep gorges. Torrents, snow, ice and landslides hammer at it all the year round. Throughout the rainy season, just ending now, the road is impassable much of the time. Even in good weather it takes a motor truck two weeks to make the 650 miles—50 miles a day and the days are long.

For more than 600 years the Burma road was a pack trail and in sections a rutted cart road. But in 1937, when Chiang Kai-shek saw the need for opening what might be his last lifeline to the south (he hasn't any other now but the 2,000-mile truck road into Russia), work was started on the last link.

Work Without Pay
THE Governor of Yunnan province levied on the tribes and villages for labor. Men came from as far as eight days away. They grumbled, for workers on the Burma road get no pay, but they came in droves. At times there have been 120,000 men, women and children at work.

They hacked away at the mountain sides, they cut timber, they rolled great rocks into gulleys and gorges. They piled stones beside the narrow strip and old men saw all day breaking them with little hammers. They spread rocks on the road, filled the chinks with gravel, and packed it down with ox-drawn rollers hewn from solid rock. When there were landslides the work had to be done all over again.

The coolies bridged the roaring torrents of the Salween and Me-kong rivers, looking up a mile through the pines and wild rhododendron to the snow-capped Yunnan peaks. They bridged scores of lesser streams with stone and cement arches that would stand under the weight of 2,000 three-ton trucks ordered from America. And when the floods caught them, the work once more had to be done over again.

Two-Year Job
FINALLY, in two years, the Burma road was finished. It wasn't a speedway but it was finished—if such a road ever can be called finished. Nature never ceases her blasting. It takes an army of workers to keep it in repair.

But the soldiers of China must be fed and have guns and ammunition. So the army working on the Burma road will take its rain of bombs along with the blasts of nature and keep on working. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek says it can be done. The Japanese say it can't. In Washington, nobody knows. But one way or the other, the Burma road will be in the history books.

FUNNY BUSINESS

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They pass most of these acids about 2 1/2 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent urinary passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. They give happy relief and will help 15 miles of kidney tubes shed all poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Mrs. Mabel Bowen Sees 1940 Witches Going High-Hat As Season Approaches
For Gay, Colorful Hallowe'en Frolics

Dear Friends in Warren:
Hallowe'en—time of black cats, pumpkin pies, bobbing for apples, childhood frolics and witches. Children adore Hallowe'en parties, and how they would thrill at the sight of a table like that shown in a recent preview of late October fashions. This party table can be made at home at very small cost, so perhaps I can picture it for you.

Presiding over the Hallowe'en capers was Miss Witch in customary tall black hat, but with a new wasp waist line, pulled up demurely with a narrow orange corselet, laced with a long narrow black ribbon, that dangled over her yellow crepe overskirt. Of course, a black cat was pasted on her broom.

As with several pre-Hallowe'en tables exhibited early this month, green was combined here with the usual orange and black. This table was covered with dark green crepe paper, set with orange banded paper china and orange and black napkins. The place cards were made by cutting the outline of a cat from black mat stock, painting the features with white poster paint. Each black cat was resplendent with a bow of orange crepe paper under its chin whiskers.

And here is the way to make that 1940 wasp-waisted witch. The witch's head is a tube of peach crepe paper 3 inches deep and 5 inches in circumference. Stuff the tube with cotton and tie with spool wire 1 inch from top and bottom. Paint features on with water color paints or crayons. Tint the cheeks with rouge. For the witch's hair, cut a strip of gray crepe paper long enough to cover the back of her head. Slash the crepe across the grain into a fine fringe. Stretch and crinkle the fringe.

For the arms cut two pieces of No. 15 wire each 12 inches long. Bend the ends back 1/2 inch for hands. Wrap each wire separately with a strip of peach crepe paper cut 1/2 inch wide across the grain. Rewrap several times until the arms are about as thick as a pencil. Allow 7 inches for arms crepe paper, set with orange banded paper china and orange and black napkins. The place cards were made by cutting the outline of a cat from black mat stock, painting the features with white poster paint. Each black cat was Judges Announced For PTA Posters; Contest Ends Fri.

The poster committee for the Community P. T. A. Council announces today appointment of the judges in the play poster contest being conducted in conjunction with the annual season ticket sale.

Miss Hildegarde Edwards will head the committee of judges, assisted by Mrs. J. H. Cruickshank of North Warren, and Mrs. Harold Hampson.

Children engaged in making posters for the contest are again advised that these must be in the hands of Mrs. Alan Templeton, 7 Hertzell street, no later than tomorrow evening.

The entries will then be judged and winners will be made known next week. Winning posters will be placed on display in the business section soon after the judges' decision is reached.

"Girl Shy" Opening Is Set For Tonight

It is believed there is many a lesson to be learned from "Girl Shy," the delightful three-act comedy by Katherine Kavanaugh, to be given its first performance here at 8:30 o'clock this evening by a competent cast of St. Joseph Players' Club members.

Lewis Critelli, directing the production expressed today his complete satisfaction with the cast's efforts in creating the light and airy atmosphere of the collegiate world. The cast brings an array of new and old talent in "Girl Shy," being offered tonight and tomorrow night. It was stated today that reservations for season tickets may still be made at Mahood's and single admissions will be sold at the door.

Great Magician To Offer Miracles In Local Presentation

The entertainment committee of the Woman's Club advises club members and friends to "padlock your pocketbooks, lock up the silverware and nail down the door handle, because anything can happen" when Dr. Harlan Tarbell, world famous magician and mental scientist, presents "Show Us Miracles" at the clubhouse on Thursday evening, November 7.

a new era in magical literature for magicians. He is author of the well known "Tarbell Course in Magic", and encyclopedia of mystery illustrated with 3,000 pictures.

He is also creator of over 200 mysteries for magicians, including the new Hindu rope mystery, which Thurston and Houdini acclaimed the greatest trick of its kind ever brought into the field of magic.

When Tarbell comes here, he will perform this rope miracle, as well as others which have baffled witch doctors, holy men and wonder workers of India, China, Japan, Egypt and Bali, telling also their interesting stories and background.

Announcement of his coming has been received with interest and pleasure by old and young in Warren and vicinity and to the youngsters the committee is offering a special inducement. Any student selling $6 worth of tickets for Tarbell's entertainment will be entitled to a free ticket for himself and a number are already at work.

London is the center of the world trade in furs.

Knitters Busy In Plans for Bundles For Britain Work

Knitting headquarters for the Warren Chapter, Bundles for Britain, are to open next Monday afternoon, October 28, at one o'clock, in the Warren Bank and Trust Company building, rooms 405, 406 and 407. They will continue open each afternoon from one until five o'clock, except on Saturdays and Sundays.

Members will be in charge to give instructions and distribute wool. Sample garments will be on display as well as posters. Wool will be distributed free, but any persons wishing to contribute to the wool fund may do so.

The sum of $170 realized from the recent bake sale is being used for the purchase of wool, which is, in turn, distributed free to anyone willing to knit articles for the chapter. A book will be provided at knitting headquarters where people may make voluntary contributions, however.

It is hoped that all members of this division who can do so will supply themselves with the necessary needles, since the purchase of needles for all would place a great strain upon the funds.

All knitters are urged to bring their just-started garments to the Woman's Club auditorium Saturday morning to be displayed in the knitting division booth at the afternoon tea. Labels should be placed on the work and owners are to collect their articles at the close of the tea.

Approximately 200,000 seals are taken annually in the waters around Newfoundland.

Special Interest Locally In First Jamestown Satire

The final dress rehearsal for "Of Thee I Sing", opening production of the Jamestown Little Theatre's fifth season, was held last evening in preparation for tonight's opening. The play will run for eight consecutive performances, closing Friday, November 1.

With tricky Gershwin music and a theme of political satire, the presentation is very timely. The cast of 75 persons, rehearsing for the past five weeks, is being costumed by Eaves, of New York, who were in charge of that feature of the original Broadway production.

Jeanne Field, of Warren, and Joe Elliott, of Jamestown, are included in the cast, doing the juvenile parts as well as dancing leads. All choreography and dance ensembles for the production have been created and directed by Betty Field, of Warren.

Coincidental with the Jamestown show, the Jane Kellor Studio Players of Buffalo, N. Y., are opening the same satire, closing one night earlier than in the neighboring city.

DEDICATION OF CHURCH SUNDAY AT STARBRICK

Dedication services and a Rally Day program will be held at the Starbrick church next Sunday. It was announced today by the Rev. B. F. Armstrong, missionary of the American Sunday School Union.

The morning service at 10:30 o'clock will be in the form of a Rally Day program. Former Sunday school missionaries will speak. The dedication service will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock. The Rev. Frank Keirill, of Cleveland, former missionary from Warren county and now district superintendent of the American Sunday School Union, will preach the dedication sermon.

The public is invited to attend these services.

Both men and women have 12 pairs of ribs.

for the soul. If you argue about a deuce or a five-spot, it really is not important. The main thing is to realize that the argument concerned only a deuce or five-spot, forget about it before the game is over and leave with no loss of friendship with the other players.

Two experts got into an argument over today's hand. North said, "I don't think you should have invited a slam with only the ace-jack of diamonds."

South said, "I don't think you can bid spades and then carry me into five diamonds with just a king-queen and king." South talked louder and was apparently winning the argument, when a quiet kibitzer stopped them with, "But you could have made the hand."

Declarer had won the opening lead with the ace of hearts, picked up the trumps, correctly guessed the diamond finesse, but still lost a heart and a diamond.

The kibitzer said he should have won the opening lead with the ace of hearts, played a small club to dummy's ten, lead the king of spades and discarded the deuce of hearts from his own hand.

Then, when a heart was returned, he could trump it, pick up trumps, go over to the king of diamonds and discard the jack and six of diamonds on the queen and jack of spades. Thus he could make the contract without even having to guess the diamond finesse.

North Warren Hallowe'en Carnival Is Being Held In Community House Next Week; Kids' Parade Featured

The North Warren Indoor Carnival will open next Monday night, October 28, and will run the entire week, being climaxed by the give-away of a new 1941 Pontiac two-door sedan on Saturday, November 2.

This year's carnival will feature many new attractions, including new concessions, new entertainment, new settings and new prizes. In addition to the automobile, door prizes will be offered, which will include three General Electric radios, as well as other valuable prizes offered "every hour on the hour."

The entertainment will be entirely different and will offer a change of program each and every night. The town and home decoration feature will again be presented this year and should attract many to North Warren to view this very unusual feature, which is unique in that North Warren is said to be the only place in the country where such a display is held. Last year thousands of cars visited the community to view the displays, which were of an exterior nature, in keeping with the Hallowe'en spirit and are easily seen from a passing car.

The annual Kids' Hallowe'en Parade will be staged Saturday afternoon, November 2, at 3 p. m. All kiddies under 15 years of age are urged to attend. A free gift will be given each attendee and cash awards will be presented to costume prize winners. The parade will form at the Community House.

The entire carnival will be in the Community House and a mammoth tent in the rear of the building. Both will be well heated and will insure comfortable surroundings in which to enjoy the program.

Free protected parking may be obtained directly across from the Community House. The parking lot is under the supervision of Civic Club members. The carnival is being sponsored by the Civic Club as a benefit for the North Warren Community House. The general committee is composed of Henry Ledebur, chairman; Russell Dietrich, George Cowden and Donald Burghardt.

Tickets are on sale by Civic Club members, E. & B. Smokes Shop, Finley's Sport Shop and at the car, which is parked at the corner of Liberty street and Second avenue.

FARMER - ROTARY MEETING TO BE HELD ON NOV. 6

Research on industrial crops promises the brightest future agriculture has ever known, according to L. F. Livingston, manager of the Agricultural Extension Division of the E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Company, who is scheduled to speak at the annual Farmer-Rotary dinner to be held Wednesday evening, November 6, at the North Warren Community House.

Mr. Livingston will discuss the relations of industry and agriculture and the possibilities in farm crops as raw material sources for the factories of the nation.

An advocate of the farm chemurgic idea, he has devoted years of study to the industrial use of agricultural raw materials. The future of agriculture does not lie in the expansion of existing food crops, according to Mr. Livingston. Surplus crops, changing food habits and a leveling off in the growth of population all indicate there will be little increase in the demand for the country's food crops.

Research to develop new crops and new uses for old crops does, however, promise bigger farm income than the agricultural community has ever known, he says. Mr. Livingston will display some thirty examples of products made from agricultural raw materials and results of recent research work.

The du Pont Company has accepted invitations for its agricultural representative to speak in important farm centers. The company consumes huge quantities of farm products. Moreover, it supplies a substantial quantity of chemical products to the farmers of the country.

Usher Group Holds Annual Meeting at First Presbyterian

The Ushers Association of the First Presbyterian church held its annual meeting last evening following a dinner at which the members were guests of the Session of the church.

The Rev. E. P. Wroth, pastor of Trinity Memorial Episcopal church, spoke on the function of the ushers group from the standpoint of the minister. Ed C. Lowrey, editor of the Times-Mirror, spoke on the work of the ushers' group at Trinity church, of which he is a member.

Dr. Harold C. Warren, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, discussed some of the developments which the ushers hope to accomplish, and Alex Flick, retiring president of the Presbyterian ushers' group, spoke briefly.

Motion pictures were shown to the group by W. E. Lutz. At the business meeting, the following officers were elected: David DeForest, president; Thomas Perkins, vice president; James H. Kanengeiser, treasurer, and Franklin R. Hoff, secretary.

BELL EMPLOYEES HEAR OFFICIAL AT LOCAL MEET

Frank J. Chesterman, vice president and general manager of the Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania, spoke to 370 Bell men and women at the fall meeting of the Warren district last night at the Conewango Club. Julius A. Krause, district plant superintendent, was chairman of the meeting. The company's operations in this territory and the remainder of western Pennsylvania during the past year were reviewed by Mr. Chesterman. He commended Bell employees for the part they played in bringing about many improvements in the service.

Employees were present from as far east as Coudersport and as far south as Pottsville. Among the visitors were: Hobart C. Young, general commercial manager; Thomas J. Herron, general traffic manager; Edwin M. Clark, general plant manager; Walter L. Lees, division manager; William M. Dickson, division plant superintendent; William W. Kinkel, division traffic superintendent, and Pealer Rossmann, general traffic supervisor, all of Pittsburgh.

G. O. P. LEADERS ARE EXPECTING CAPACITY CROWD

Accommodations for an overflow crowd at the "30 Third Term" rally at the court house here tomorrow night have been provided, it was announced today by county Republican leaders. A public address system will carry the talks of John L. Light, secretary of agriculture, and Lewis G. Hines, secretary of labor and industry, to listeners throughout the court house and outside. Since the rally is scheduled to begin promptly at eight o'clock, parade units have been urged to assemble at their designated places at seven o'clock. The parade will move at 7:30, going east in Pennsylvania avenue from Union street to Market street and north to the court house. To avoid traffic congestion, police have requested that from 7 p. m. all traffic except parade formations avoid Fourth avenue. Further information regarding parade units may be obtained by calling 2571.

The Conestoga Wagon received its name from the valley of that name in Lancaster county inhabited by Menonites.

ing planned and refreshments will be served. Visitors from Sheffield, Ludlow, Kane and Mt. Jewett are expected at the meeting.

Dragons Tangle With Owls Tomorrow Night At Bradford

Last Warren Victory Was In 1927; Elevens Are At Full Strength

Coach Leidig's Dragons will attempt to throw their balance for the season over to the blue side of the ledger tomorrow night when they go to Bradford to engage in their second game of the year under lights.

The Dragons have so far won and lost the same number of games, four, dropping engagements to Erie Strong Vincent, Erie Academy, Kane and Johnsonburg, while winning from Girard, Oil City, Titusville and Franklin. Bradford has won but one game, that from Oil City, while tying Grove City and losing to DuBois and Erie Tech.

Eddie Abraham's eleven from Tech had little trouble trouncing

Nelson was coming along rapidly and would probably be ready for Warren.

Poling will be paired with Nelson at the ends. Heitzinger and Hults will be the starting tackles. DiPonzo and Willard are the guards and Moffatt the center. Susi is expected to get the call for quarterback with Rolfe Williams and Jack Nelson at halfbacks and O'Hanigan at fullback.

The Warren backfield will start with Joe Tamburine at quarter, Landers and Zahransky at halves and Bob "Spinner" Johnson at fullback. Wolfe and Brown will be the starting terminals, with Huffman and Sperry at tackles, Fredericks and Niederer the guards and Jim Harding at the pivot.

The Dragons' last win over Bradford was in 1927, although they tied the Owls, 6-6, in 1937. Until this year, the Dragons had played only once under the lights, and that was in Bradford during the 1934 season.

In Italy, a pound of coffee costs 78 cents; in Germany, $1.25, and in Russia, $12.

BIG RED ELEVEN AND PENN LEAD IN STATISTICS

Seattle, Oct. 24.—(AP)—Those giants of the east—Cornell and Pennsylvania—dominate this week's batch of statistics as compiled by the American Football Statistical Bureau, and the writer of figures also indicates some interesting conclusions.

For the second straight week Cornell is tops in total offense—gains both rushing and passing—with a 198.7 yard average per game. The Ithacans gained 384 yards on the ground and 816 in the air for 1,400 yards in four games.

For the third straight week Cornell was the nation's "passingest" team, averaging 272 yards via the air lanes.

Penn meanwhile, boomed into second place in total offense with a 400-yard per game average and, the statistics say, is the country's best rushing outfit with a 303.7 average per game.

Also, Penn for the second straight week boasted the best defense against rushing. Its opposition, while not too robust, grossed 147 yards against the unquenchable Quaker forwards and lost 121 yards for the microscopic net yield of 26 yards, or an average per game of only 8.7 yards.

Penn's Saturday adversary, Michigan, which has been playing tougher teams, is ninth in total offense, but fifth in rushing alone, what with Harmon, Westfall and Evashevski, so Saturday's tilt should pit a strong running outfit against a line which held Maryland, Yale and Princeton ball packers to that tiny 8.7 per game average.

Cornell's Saturday foe, Ohio State, the 1939 total offense leader, also has been playing tougher clubs and doesn't figure among the offensive leaders, its 252 yard per game average being well under the accomplishments of the first five. But the Ohio Staters rank fifth in pass defense, holding the enemy aerials to an average of only 34.6 per game.

This means the nation's best passing club will run up against a team with a stout anti-aircraft department, so all four—Cornell, Ohio State, Penn and Michigan, will get an opportunity to try out their best poison against high grade antidotes.

SPORT SCATTERINGS

Our grapevine informs us that the Tonawanda Eldredge Club, the most popular grid attraction of the Red Jackets' schedule since they turned in two victories at Russell Field last year, has suddenly jumped from a 21-man to a 28-man squad. As this is unusual for Buffalo teams, although common practice in the Pittsburgh district where reloading tools are furnished after each defeat, we investigated and find that Tonawanda picked up seven players from another strong club which recently disbanded after losing its financial backing. Our Buffalo informant, who grinds a mill on one of the leading dailies, vouchsafed the opinion that the Jackets would find the Eldredge combine much tougher than in 1939. Well, the local eleven is somewhat more formidable, too. Incidentally, we tried to impress upon our readers last week that the McKeesport-Warren game might turn into the damndest tilt so far this season, but we must have overdone it, for one of this bureau's public told us Monday that he suspected we were indulging in ballyhoo, and deliberately stayed by his fireside. He'll be at the field next Sunday!

We could stand a little weather break tomorrow night at Bradford after a very thrilling, but chilling, few hours atop the crow's nest at Russell Field last weekend. Johnny Nelson, sports savant of the Bradford Era, guaranteed us comfort in Bradford's new press box, which is enclosed and perhaps steam-heated, but the last time we were in the Owls' park we sat around in the rain for an hour and a half waiting for the Buffalo Republicans to put in an appearance, so either we guess the Bradford weather or vice versa. As to the game itself, our jinx is that it will be a toss-up. After last Saturday's drab performance against Franklin, the Dragons should rebound in good shape. The Blue and White eleven is capable of pulling surprises, but the only way they can shock this writer tomorrow night is to be badly beaten. They are called upon to face a good, but not great, Pflug team, and all it should take to come home with a bunch of Owl feathers is the football of which they are capable.

With an afternoon off on Saturday, through the good offices of the director of athletics who evidently remembered his college football schedules, we expect to tune in on Penn-Michigan, which suddenly has risen to the status of "leading game in the country" despite the Cornell-Ohio State fracas at Ithaca. Guessing the winner in the Quaker-Wolverine fray is a dangerous occupation, but we have a hunch that Wolverine will be a mess of scorers before the final gun. Penn has mouse-trapped the opposing guards all season as Reagan runs up to fake a bullet pass and then crashes into the hole at center, and when Mr. Reagan gets in the open, it's farewell. He's a runner—no mistake! Dave Allardice, of Princeton, says Reagan seems to roll away from tacklers' lungs and never presents a good tackling angle. Penn may not have a blocker like Forest Evashevski in the backfield, but the guards float out there plenty fast to spur the Quakers' running attack, which is spearheaded by Reagan, Dutcher and Johnny Welsh. Michigan is the favorite—we pick Penn.

YEARS AGO IN SPORT

October 24, 1920.—If it weren't nearly a tragic blot on a season's record, Saturday's high school game at Olean could be called laughable. The officials were recruited from the spectators, the local team was constantly handicapped by "inefficient" line men who kept moving the chain every time Warren advanced the ball, so every time they put the ball in play it was ten yards yet to go; the referee tried to stop the game just as Jimmy Main reached the goal line. However, although he blew his whistle while Jimmy was running down the field, the referee was finally convinced the rules said the score must count if started before time was up. The game ended 6 to 3 in favor of Warren, with the locals not even attempting to kick the goal because the crowd surged all over that end of the field. The boys hurried for the showers and said they were glad to get out of Olean.

October 24, 1930.—The Blue and White third team won from Lakewood's second yesterday afternoon, the final score being 20-0. Kelly, Lyle and Senger scored for Warren. Warren lined up with Wilson and Gibson at the ends, Juline and Highhouse at the tackles, Culbertson and Bowes at guards, Logan at center; Taylor at quarterback, Confer and Lyle at halves and Kelly at fullback.

Sports Roundup

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

New York, Oct. 24.—New fangled stuff: Golfer Jug McSpaden has been given what amounts to a lifetime contract by Boston's swank Winchester Club, and Mose Simms, colorful coach of the St. Mary's (Texas) football team, has guaranteed New Yorkers their dough back if they don't like the way his cowboys go against Long Island University, Sunday. . . . Ted Thye, west coast wrestling impresario, just back from Australia, says if it wasn't for uniformed men on the streets, you wouldn't know a war was on. . . . With Carnegie Tech on the football skids, next year probably will see the end of its series with Notre Dame.

Rumor Frenzy

They are whispering around that Francis X. Reagan, Penn football ace, already has signed (for $7,500) to catch somewhere in the Yankee farm system. . . . And that the National Professional Football League again is shaking the presidency under the nose of Arch Ward, Chicago sports editor. . . .

Ward turned down 25,000 smackers last year. . . . What a guy!

The Gallant Gaels

St. Mary's gallant Gaels are here. And if they're shy of Kelly, there is no doubt. They're all broke out. With Schmidts and Martinellis. They've got a harp named Aguirre. And one called Reginatto. And you'll hear hails. For such good Gaels. As Heffernan and Ratto.

Today's Guest Star

Edward T. Murphy, New York Star: "Speaking of numbers, Oscar Vitt's will be drawn next Monday in Cleveland by Alva Bradley, owner of the Indians. . . . Vitt's number will be the only one in the hat, so Bradley can't miss."

Round and About

Leo Derocier is hunting in Utah. . . . Take Clemson over South Carolina today. . . . La. Marble, now a football expert, is tabbing winners 80 per cent correctly via the airwaves. . . . Preston Johnston, whose 92-yard boot made the headlines two weeks ago, has been elected treasurer of his class at Southern Methodist. . . . Fritz Zivic has attended a dozen banquets since he licked Henry Armstrong and has been presented with a pen and pencil set at each. . . . Mary Pickett is trying to arrange a rice bowl game at Los Angeles Christmas Day for the Chinese relief fund. . . . Frank Leahy's new baby, born while her pop was beating Tulane, has been christened Florence Victoria Leahy.

Police!

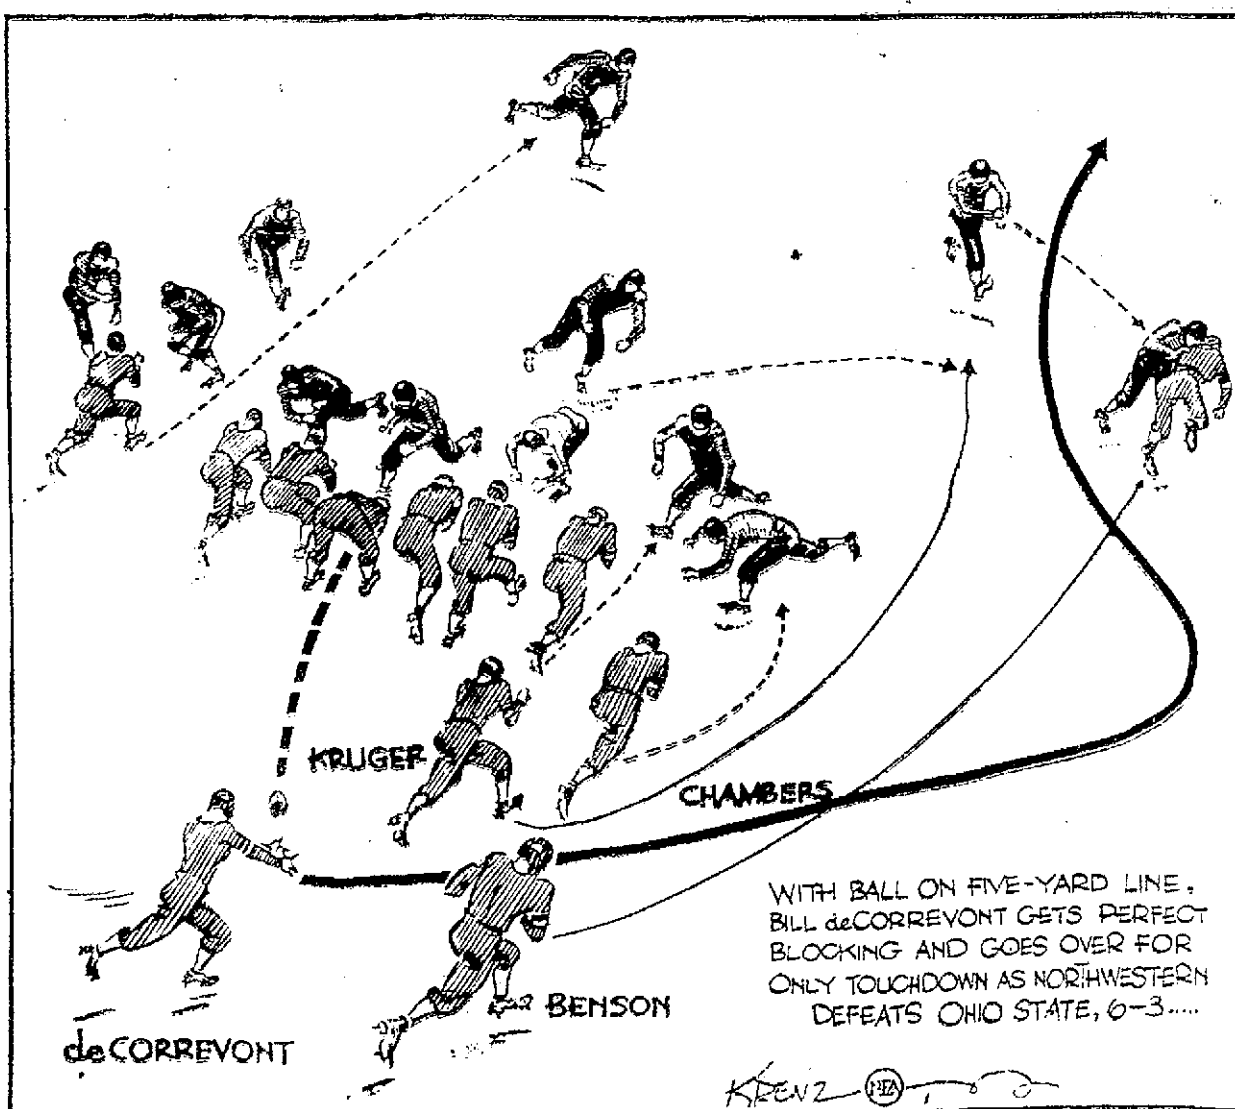

With Mendelson back on the Penn squad and Prof. Crisler on the job for Michigan, there should be plenty of Harmon-izing at Ann Arbor Saturday. . . . and in four-quarter time, too.

Move Over, Mister

J. M. Saunders, who has coached football at Morningside College for 29 consecutive years, must take a back seat. . . . Harry Hughes has been on the job at Colorado State for 30 years and never felt better in his life.

RELEASE SCHEDULE FOR NORTHERN CLASS "A" BASKETBALL CIRCUIT; DRAGONS OPEN AT RIDGWAY HIGH

Warren High's Dragon basketball team will open their league season on Friday, January 10, it was revealed today with the receipt of the official schedule of the Northern Class A circuit of District Nine, P. I. A. A.

The Dragons' first opponents will be the Ridgway Elks and the game will be played on the latter floor. Other first-night games bring together Sheffield at Bradford, Emporium at Kane and St. Marys at Johnsonburg.

The league will be operated on a split-season basis with the winners of the two halves meeting in a play-off unless the same team wins both divisions.

Coach Heinie Kolpien of the Dragons stated today that basketball practice will begin with the end of the grid season and that he expects to schedule two or three non-league games before the circuit gets underway. Last year the Dragons met Oil City and Youngsville in independent games.

Returning to the Blue and White squad are Dick "Red" Tucker and Harry "Jap" Conroy, both of whom were picked on last year's all-star team, and Cliff Graham, who will be eligible for the first semester only. The mentor has a number of capable men on his 1939 second and third teams who will be ready for varsity berths this season.

The schedule:

MARTIN TO FIND MANY PALS ON PACIFIC COAST

Los Angeles, Oct. 24.—(AP)—John L. (Pepper) Martin, late of the St. Louis Cardinals, should feel right at home when he takes up quarters in the Pacific Coast League next spring.

For the great Pepper, once the ringtailed leader of the noisiest wildest collection of ball players, Frankie Frisch will ever have to suffer with, will find no less than six of his old cronies of the once celebrated Gas House Gang scattered along the shores of the Pacific.

The veteran Wild Horse of the Osage and newly named skipper of Sacramento will find:

Ripper Collins and big Bob Weir, and with Los Angeles, Bruste Odrovski, catching for Sacramento, "Beau Brummel" Bill Walker, pitching for Seattle, Jack Rothrock at Hollywood and young Ray Harrel at Portland.

Most of them played with Pepper and the patience of the Messrs. Frisch, Rickey and Sam Breadon—back in 1934-35 and thereabouts. Those were the years the original Gas House Gang really floundered, when a clubhouse battle was a minor incident, when off-the-field didoes kept the nation laughing and Branch Rickey smoking, when constant turmoil was the normal state.

It should be great to see Pepper Martin managing a ball club, firing it along as he should be able to do. And then, someday, if there's a hotel dining room that needs to be taken apart at lunch time, or a theater that is in need of a fine, first class, A No. 1 terrible band, like the Mudcats, maybe Pepper can corral the remnants of his once celebrated organization and take up where they left off a few years ago.

How Your PennZip Dealer Can Save You Time, Trouble and Money This Winter

If hard starting was your particular "head-ache" last winter, you'll want things to be different this year. And they can be—because there's a different gasoline now available—PennZip "Z".

This stepped-up winter gasoline fires quickly and completely—no matter how cold the weather. That means less wasteful choking—less raw gasoline to drain down and dilute your oil. And because PennZip "Z" starts easier, gives more power and burns clean, you get better mileage. You'll save time—you'll save trouble—and you'll save money with PennZip "Z". Switch over today!

Here's "Z" Way to Winter-ize Your Car

PENNZIP "Z"—the new, stepped-up gasoline that smooths out winter motoring.

PENNZIP MOTOR OIL gives double protection against cold starts and engine heat.

PENNZIP GEAR LUBE protects costly gears, and gives easy shifting all winter long.

GRAY GRID LEAGUE NEARING ITS CLOSE

McClintock and South Street eleveners are now leading the Gray-Grid Football League, each team having won two. McClintock, however, has been tied twice while South has been tied but once. Jefferson has lost one and tied one, East has lost one and Lacy has lost two. The league will close next week with the football trophy being presented at the Hallows' party.

TEXAS LUNCH FIVE TAKES THREE POINTS

The Koch's Texas Lunch team dropped a point last night, but it took a roll-off of the first game to give Salamanka that one in a match rolled at Salamanka. Koch's total pins by a margin of 205.

Pete Juliano rolled two games of 248 and one of 171 to register a 667 total. Norm Wooster also edged over the 600 mark.

ALLEY OOP

Long Live the Queen

By V. T. HAMLIN

IF THE STARS DICTATE MY RETURN TO ALEXANDRIA, WE GO AT ONCE!

AVE, YOUR HIGHNESS... SUCCESS ATTENDS US!

WE'LL PUT HER BACK ON HER THRONE ALL RIGHT, EH, DOC?

I DON'T KNOW, OOP... AND I DON'T LIKE ANY PART OF IT, BUT...

...I DO KNOW THAT CLEOPATRA DID REGAIN HER THRONE!

HOWEVER, IT WAS A ROMAN KNOWN AS CAESAR, NOT AN ARMOR-PLATED CAVE-MAN, WHO PUT HER THERE!

BUT THEN, DUE TO THE POSSIBILITY OF OUR BEING IN THAT THREE-YEAR PERIOD UNKNOWN TO HISTORIANS, I'M GONE TO SEE WHAT COMES OF IT!

ON TO ALEXANDRIA! LONG LIVE CLEOPATRA, QUEEN OF EGYPT!

THE ROAD TO SHANI LUN

by Rita Moller Hanson

YESTERDAY: After a series of hair-raising adventures, lovely Lynn Britton has been rescued from a Chinese revolution by Temu Darin, from whom she was fleeing when she got herself into danger. Temu is taking her to a marriage with the Prince of Shani Lun. Unfortunately for everybody, Peggy Telford, a friend of Lynn's from America, is also along and a little bit in everybody's hair as well. But Temu's plane is lost, and now there is firing in the village.

Chapter 24 Street Fight

DAWN had broken on a clear day. The street contained a few late stragglers running towards the gate. One ragged Chinese mother on crutches fled rushed up to Lynn, thrust her baby into the girl's arms, and scurried off with two bricks in her hands to join the fight.

Lynn took the infant inside and laid it on the blankets on the kang. It was a plump, rosy-cheeked little thing not old enough to be as grimy as two elder children that followed her, each dressed in a single garment, a wadded jacket, their bodies from the waist down incredibly chapped and flitty.

"Look after them," Lynn directed Peggy blithely and hurried out again.

She saw a tall ladder leading to a parapet on the top of the wall near the gate they had entered the night before. On the parapet, bricks and boulders were stacked to ward off an attack on the gate. Lynn climbed for the view, and looking down at the outside, noted something she had not expected to see.

A party of the enemy with sword and pick and crowbar were busy digging a hole in the mud-brick wall while the attention of the villagers was drawn to the farther gate. Lynn called for help and reaching for a stack of bricks, began hurling them down on the men.

Their officer, who was apparently preparing a charge of explosive for blasting, lifted a rifle and shot at her. Lynn dodged back but kept on with her offensive. She could cause some trouble to the party because they were working directly below her stand.

Temu, returning from the scene of action at the farther gate, stared at her incredulously for a moment and then bounded up the ladder and glanced over the wall. At sight of him the leader suddenly became galvanized. He shouted and aimed his rifle as if shooting to kill. At the officer's shout the other men had dropped their tools and caught up their weapons. The bullets came fast and furious. Temu ducked and pulled Lynn down.

"They recognized you! They're after you!" he exclaimed. "Looks like it," he admitted. "You know there's been a fabulous reward offered for me dead or alive."

"But how could anyone know you are here?" He shrugged. "How does the bee find honey? How does the thief find money? The fools! They're just wasting ammunition now! If I could get that officer, there may be papers on him. I'd like to know who's back of this. You stay down!"

She heard an exchange of shots and in a moment Temu was leaning over the parapet. The men had scattered beyond range and were dropping into the canyon below, their comrades repulsed at the gates accompanying them.

Lynn rose and stood beside Temu. It was then she felt the wetness of her garments on her shoulder. Her eyes widened and she reached back. Temu put two hands on her wrist, and drawing her to him, looked over her shoulder.

"You've been shot!"

New Problem

TEMU, in one swift movement, stripped off her Mongol coat, "I feel it," she gasped, "I feel it!" She was going rather white from mental shock. As she sank down on a pile of brick, he unlooped the two buttons at the neck of her dress and looked at the wound.

"Just a scratch," he said with relief, and placing a clean, folded handkerchief over the spot, he helped her down the ladder. The moment they stepped inside the inn door, Temu directed Chan to bring hot water and the first-aid kit.

"Oh, this terrible country!" Peggy groaned when he explained what had happened. "Will she die?"

Lynn laughed. "Try to kill me." Temu placed a three-legged stool for Lynn before the window from which he punched the paper covering. The baby, she noticed, lay peacefully asleep on the kang.

"Where are the other two children?" she asked.

"Thank heaven, they disappeared," Peggy answered. "What do you think you're going to do with this baby?"

"Baby?" queried Temu absently, taping a dressing on Lynn's white shoulder.

"As if we didn't have enough trouble already Lynn went out and brought in a baby!" Peggy cried bitterly.

Temu straightened and looked towards the kang. Lynn explained about the whimpering infant.

"I only hope," he said in a troubled voice, "that its mother returns safely. Some of the Chinese women lost their lives. They fought like tigresses."

ASKS COLLEGE HOLIDAY

Harrisburg, Oct. 24.—(AP)—So that students may go home to vote, William Scarlett, chairman of the college division of the Young Republicans of Pennsylvania, has asked presidents of all Pennsylvania colleges to grant leave from class on November 5.

While Lynn changed to fresh garments, Temu and Chan sought the baby's mother among the inhabitants who were already evacuating the village. They could find no woman who had mislaid a baby.

Bula returned with them. Not content, it seemed, with seeing the enemy retreat, he alone had chased them into the canyon and secured certain information for Temu.

"Just a line on the insurrectionists," he evasively answered Temu to Lynn's inquiry. After a hasty breakfast they began their trek with the last of the villagers along the northern trail. Somewhere Chan, the resourceful, secured a shoulder yoke, and swinging their luggage, started off on his tireless, cheerful trot.

Bula carried the rifles and ammunition slung across his back and a mammoth sword he had taken from one of the enemy dead. Unused to being afoot, he walked awkwardly in huge Mongol boots.

There was no one with whom to leave the baby. Temu, carrying the infant, amused Lynn momentarily.

"It's like seeing an eagle turned into a nursemaid," she chuckled. "Eagles have babies," he reminded her.

Peggy, mincing along on extremely high heels and using her red parasol as a cane caught his free arm. "You'll have to carry pretty soon," she predicted. "My feet are beginning to hurt already."

He looked down anxiously at her thin, expensive slippers, and when they caught up with an old man and his young wife trundling along, all their worldly goods piled high on a wheelbarrow.

Temu asked if they had an extra pair of shoes to sell. "He seems determined not to carry me," Peggy told the world at large.

"You wouldn't feel very comfortable being across my shoulder, which is the only way I carry a damsel when she's reached your age," he assured her, handing the baby to Lynn while he examined a peculiar pair of Creeper-like boots.

Occasionally seen in western China, Peggy put them on and Lynn laughed.

"Looks as though you're wearing sugar-cured hams. If Sam could see you now!"

"I wish to goodness I were with Sam!" wailed Peggy. "Then this little adventure has done some good," smiled Temu. "It's reconciled you to your husband."

"He wouldn't be walking me along the edge of the jumping-off place in shoes full of fleas while he carried a fat, Chinese baby that belonged to Lynn," she retorted.

Temu grinned but said nothing. No Sale

STRUCK by an idea, Lynn turned sharply and put the baby in the little wife's arms. "You wantee baby?" she asked. "Can have. And she made signs that they could keep the child."

The young woman looked at the infant, shook her head, and she and her husband both broke into an excited chatter.

Laughingly, Temu took back the child. "They are expecting a son of their own."

"Well," Lynn sighed. "It was a good idea while it lasted. They were the first Chinese family I ever saw without any children."

"Why didn't you put it in her arms and run?" Peggy demanded. "That's the way you got it."

Their queer procession started on its way again. Chan leading, and the one-eyed Mongol on his tender feet, with their ball-and-chain gait, bringing up the rear. Temu urged them along as fast as he could, asking each group of refugees they passed if the baby he carried belonged to them.

Finally a woman informed him that she knew the child; that his mother was among the dead of the assaulted village. No, she did not want the infant at any price.

There were times when silvas was useless. Temu was a boy why not lay him down by the roadside as if he were a girl and let nature take its course? There was no way to feed such a tiny baby without its mother.

Lynn overcame that difficulty temporarily by dissolving lump sugar in sun-warmed water and giving it to the infant with a spoon. The trail soon left the top of the ridge and wandered down into a canyon beside a tumbling river, only to climb out again to a wide tableland.

They approached a high-walled farmstead, which at a distance in the clear, exhilarating sunlight, looked as romantic as a medieval castle. But when they gained admittance to the compound it exhibited the usual, dull misery of toil-driven people. The farmers intended to stay to the death rather than flee before the scourge of revolution.

A young matron of the family nursed, with her baby girl, the hungry mile. Temu had carried all morning. This family was glad to keep the child since he was a boy. Temu added silver to the gift.

"At least, we've given him a continuation of life," sighed Lynn. They were sitting outside in the shade of the farmstead wall, eating the remains of the food in the lunch basket, and giving Peggy and Bula a chance to rest their feet.

The farmer possessed not even one beast of burden that they could buy or commandeer.
